1 LEARNING TRUST

The Learning Trust is a private not-for-profit company which replaced Hackney LEA in 2002. We have responsibility for running all education services in the Borough including schools, day nurseries, the play service, the adult education service, recruitment, maintenance, coordinating extended hours and school transport. Our vision is to provide an excellent education service so that every child, young person and adult learner in Hackney can fulfil their potential.

5 REASONS TO LEAD A SCHOOL IN HACKNEY

- GSCE results are now above the National Average.
- There are 5 new academies in the borough and every existing secondary school is being transformed with new state of the art buildings.
- 80 per cent of primary schools inspected in 2008-2009 were rated "good" or "outstanding" by Ofsted.
- Post-16 education provision is one of most improved in the country, with many students' results now ranked in the top third nationally.
- You'll get the support you need to create even more success stories.

5 REASONS TO LIVE IN HACKNEY

- We're a thriving multicultural community where over 100 different languages are spoken.
- We're 20 minutes from the City or the West End.
- We've got a host of great places to relax – 62 parks, gardens and outdoor spaces, including an Olympic-sized lido.
- We're home to umpteen cafes, restaurants and bars to suit all tastes, from budget to fine dining.
- We're big on entertainment - from indie films and pantomime theatre to art exhibitions and music festivals.

"Being a Head in Hackney is sometimes challenging but always rewarding. You can watch your vision unfold around you and will experience a great buzz when things you have planned come together. If you believe in life-long learning, and an education system that is a truly mixed economy which values all learners then you will fit into Hackney well."

Shirley Anne Sullivan

Executive Head, Ickburgh, Downsview Federation and Virtual Resource Base.

"Leadership is about empowering others. Staff and students are very proud of this school, therefore like to be here and like to give it their best. And if we're all pulling in the same direction, we're going to do well!"

Cheryl Day

Headteacher, Clapton Girls' Technology College

"The Learning Trust has given [headteachers] the support that allows us to maximise the impact we have in school by focusing on what really matters and being able to say no to the things that don't."

Heather Rockhold

Headteacher, Lauriston Primary School

WHAT YOU NEED

- Qualified Teacher Status.
 - Evidence of recent relevant in-service training.
 - Registered or in possession of NPQH qualification (if required).
 - Graduate level qualifications except in exceptional circumstances.
- We are looking for a candidate who can demonstrate the vision and leadership qualities to provide the pupils with an exciting, vibrant, safe and stimulating environment. You will need a strong vision, a good understanding of learning and teaching and people skills to inspire staff, parents and pupils. Good communication skills are also essential to help develop the school's reputation in the local community.
